

College Admission Expos at NYCU

🕒 2023-04-10 · 📄 News

The first College Admission Expos in three years after the Covid-19 pandemic was held on April 8th in Guangfu Campus of the National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University (NYCU). More than 30 academic units participated in this extraordinarily successful event; visit to the department, laboratory demonstrations, pep talks, symposia and other fun activities were taken place throughout the entire day. Besides, there were drone experience, formula racing, observe clean-rooms for semiconductor fabrication, among others.

The Expos was very well attended by nearly a thousand of high school students and their parents, who gained more understanding of curriculum and future career planning. They also witnessed the traditional Chiao Tung University Day cheered by the alumni and friends who returned to their Alma Mater to celebrate their reunions. It is a memorable day for all who were there with the harmonious sound of grass concert arranged by the Student Association. Perspective students were immersed in a day of exciting yet fulfilling experience at NYCU, imaging of the future days when they become members of the NYCU family.

Thousands of perspective students and their parents participated in the Admission Expos

Office of International Affairs also made a special effort by organizing a first-ever home-coming activity for international alumni and current students; 11 international alumni who are employed in the high-tech and/or medical sectors in Taiwan were there to share their working and living experience in Taiwan as well as to promote student exchange and study abroad programs between NYCU and universities worldwide.

International alumni gathered at NYCU to share their working and living experiences