Designing My Path: From Admission to Doctorate

In 2018, I began an exciting journey at National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University, driven by a passion for healthcare and technology. Applying for the Taiwan International Graduate Program (TIGP-SCST) led me to explore the intersection of these fields, revealing a world of possibilities. By 2024, I proudly completed my doctorate, having connected with diverse individuals and harnessed technology to address critical health challenges. As an alumnus, I see endless opportunities to create impactful programs and innovative devices that can transform healthcare. My journey has been one of growth, learning, and collaboration, demonstrating the power of designing our own destinies. Join me in celebrating exploration, curiosity, and resilience. "Your life, design it the way you want."
