

U.S.News 2024-2025 Best Global Universities Rankings NYCU ranked in 25 subjects, with 3 subjects ranking 1st domestically

On June 25, US News & World Report released the latest 2024-2025 edition of the Best Global Universities Rankings and subject rankings. This year's rankings included a total of 2,271 universities from 104 countries, ultimately listing the top 2,250 universities. Among the 43 subject rankings announced this year, our university ranked in 25 subjects, an increase of 7 subjects from the previous year (see Table 2). The number of subjects ranked is second only to NTU among domestic universities.

Table 2: Listed Disciplines for NYCU in US News 2024-2025

Global ranking	Listed subjects
101-200	Optics, Nanoscience and Nanotechnology, Gastroenterology and Hepatology, Artificial Intelligence, Materials Science, Condensed Matter Physics
201-300	Cardiology and Cardiovascular System, Radiology, Nuclear Medicine and Medical Imaging, Computer Science, Physical Chemistry, Infectious Diseases, Chemistry, Electrical and Electronic Engineering, Oncology, Engineering
301-400	Energy and Fuels, Clinical Medicine, Neuroscience and Behavior, Psychiatry/Psychology
401-500	Physics, Pharmacology and Toxicology, Public, Environmental, and Occupational Health, Biology and Biochemistry, Social Sciences and Public Health
501-	Environment/Ecology

Note : Full ranking link <https://www.usnews.com/education/best-global-universities/rankings>

This year, our university's newly ranked subjects include Artificial Intelligence, Biology and Biochemistry, Energy and Fuels, Environment/Ecology, Infectious Diseases, Public, Environmental and Occupational Health, and Social Sciences and Public Health, adding a total of 7 new subjects.

Additionally, three subjects performed outstandingly, continue to hold the top position in Taiwan:

- Cardiology and Cardiovascular System, ranked 208th globally and first nationally, with our university being the only domestic institution ranked in this subject.
- Optics, ranked 117th globally and first nationally.
- Radiology, Nuclear Medicine and Medical Imaging, ranked 230th globally and first nationally.