Snapshots

ELISABETH LE LESLÉ

As a final-year student at École Polytechnique and EU-Taiwan Connectivity Scholarship recipient, my exchange at NYCU has been truly transformative.

I proudly represented my university at the Exchange Abroad Fair and introduced French culture to students at Fuli Junior High School. Academically, courses like NLP, Data Mining, and Operating Systems deepened my technical skills and inspired my master's ambitions.

Most importantly, I built lasting friendships with both local and international students, broadening my worldview and preparing me for future academic and professional success.

BACHELOR, DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

"As a final-year undergraduate student at École Polytechnique and a proud recipient of the EU-Taiwan Connectivity Scholarship, my time at NYCU has been transformative.

I represented my home university at the Exchange Abroad Fair and shared French culture with students at Fuli Junior High School. Academically, courses like NLP (Prof. An-Zi Yen), Data Mining (Prof. Jason Wang), and Operating Systems (Prof. Chun-Feng Wu) have broadened my technical expertise and shaped my aspirations for a master's degree.

Beyond studies, I've formed lasting connections with both exchange and Taiwanese students, which enriched my perspective and prepared me to excel in my future academic and professional journey!"
