Snapshots

FABIAN HEINE

As a computer science student from ETH Zurich, I spent a semester on exchange at NYCU—an experience that has been both enriching and transformative.

Academically, I immersed myself in machine learning courses, working on projects that expanded my skills and deepened my curiosity about the field. I also took on the challenge of learning Chinese; while mastering the characters was demanding, it gave me a profound appreciation for the language and culture.

Outside the classroom, I built lasting friendships with both local and international students. Together, we traveled across Taiwan, discovering its breathtaking landscapes, vibrant traditions, and the remarkable warmth of its people. This journey has left a lasting impression on me and will remain one of the most unforgettable chapters of my life.
