● N-Your-Campus-U Intercampus Connection Project · 2nd Round Begins!
—— First Stop: Yilan ——

"Which campus are you from?"

As an NYCU student, this might be one of the most common questions when meeting new friends!

With more and more cross-campus activities taking place, did you know that NYCU actually has nine campuses, located in Yilan, Taipei, Taoyuan, Hsinchu, Tainan, and Kaohsiung?

So—how many of them have you been to? ☹️

🌱 About the Program

Since the 2023 academic year, the LAC and SPEC has launched the "N-Your-Campus-U Intercampus Connection Project".

With the spirit of "Starting from the campus, connecting with the local community," each semester the project visits a different city and campus—from Yilan, Taipei, Hsinchu to Tainan— exploring the relationship between academic disciplines and their local contexts, turning the diversity of space into a resource for learning.

Together, we rediscover NYCU—step by step, place by place.

In the 2025 academic year, we're officially kicking off the 2nd Round.

and our first destination is Yilan! 📍

🌈 First Stop: Yilan | From Campus to City

This time, we'll embark on a two-day, one-night journey to get to know the Lanyang Campus (Yilan Hospital)— an important site that played a key role during the pandemic.

We'll also stroll through Yilan's old downtown to experience its cultural and historical charm:

Morning Market Yilan- South Market: The largest traditional market in all of Yilan, offering an authentic taste of local daily life.

Morning Market Yilan - North Market: A Japanese Style traditional shopping street-market, even very rare in Japan.

"Woven Vision" Mini Exhibition: Linked Horizons Mini Exhibition—Northeastern Coast Sustainable Tourism exhibit, now touring at the Yilan Story House.

Nanyang Indigenous Cultural Center: The "more local, the more global" Taiwan Indigenous Cultural and Creative Center.

Follow the N-Y-C-U Intercampus Connection Project,

where every campus becomes Your Campus, and every journey brings us closer to the heart and spirit of NYCU.
