ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

“What would I be if I had the option to relive my life?” I ask myself, just like Nicholas Cage, the actor in the film “The Family Man”, what lifestyle would I choose - covet possessions, aggressively seek promotion or re-experience my unforgettable course of studies.

Without a direct answer, I ponder over my thoughts while struggling with my dissertation. In reality, I owe a debt of gratitude to the many people whose help has been crucial to my success in completing this dissertation. First of all, I have been privileged to have the direction and guidance of two excellent mentors, my advisers Lawrence W. Lan and Jiu-Biing Sheu. From the inception of this project, Prof. Lan has been generous with his time and has provided eminently helpful advice on everything from the methodological design to the writing process. His faith in me and his ability to bring me back on track at difficult times have been a godsend. In addition, he has always motivated me to do my best work, offering timely feedback on each paper and keen insight into the significance of my research. Prof. Sheu has likewise made invaluable contributions to the development of my ideas and the organization of the analysis. My other Professors of ITT, NCTU, Jinn-Tsai Wong, Cheng-Min Feng, Cheng-Chwan Hwang, Tai-Sheng Huang, Yu-Chiun Chiou, Professor of NTUME, Tuzyin Wu, and committee members, Yi-Hwa Chou, Huey-Kuo Chen and Gwo-Hsiung Tzeng have also contributed insightful and critical comments and suggestions during my fieldwork and oral - I am extremely appreciative to them.

My heartfelt appreciation goes out to all the people who have improved my English ability over the years, especially the teachers, Rosa Chen (陳惠如), Ming-Chung Yu (余明忠), Mr. Harold Thompson, Alice Chen (陳政蓉), Julian Chen and Curtis. I am indebted to Prof. Chen and Yu for their teaching and improving the grammar and organization of my writing in ITT, NCTU. I am grateful to Mr. Harold Thompson for proofreading my paper making them more acceptable for publication. I am also thankful to the teachers, Alice Chen, Julian Chen and Curtis, who taught extensively at Soochow University, for stimulating my interest in English. Furthermore, I have enjoyed the camaraderie of Chi-Hwa Chern (其華), Yi-Wen Kuo (奕姝), Meng-Yu Chiu (孟佑), Chieh-Chao Wen (杰炤), Ming-Te Wang (銘德), Charles Sheu (志誠), Yi-Shih Chung (易詩). I have benefited much from discussions with each of them at various times and places, and in particular from participation in seminars with them. My esteemed Prof. Pin-Yi Tseng, Associate Prof. Doris Chu and Assistant Prof. Yu-Kai Huang provided just the right amount of everything I needed from a colleague to get through this process and not lose perspective. Thanks also to Miss Hong and Liu who provided numerous consultations about school administration.

As for my professional life, I am deeply grateful to my superiors and co-workers for financial and psychological support during the past six years, especially, I have to thank Taipei City Mayor, Lung-Bin Hau (郝龍斌) and Ex-Mayor, Ying-Jeou Ma (馬英九) for their promotion of lifelong education. In addition, Commissioner, Cho-Chiun Wang (王卓鈞) of TCPD, Commissioner, Chun-Chang Tsai (蔡俊章) of KCPD, Commissioner, Sheng-Yung Hung (黃昇勇) of KCPB, Chief Inspector, Yuan-Chin Shih (施源欽) of TCPD, Commander, Che-Wen Chen (陳釋文) of CID, TCPD, Chief, Chin-Lin Wang (王慶麟) of Wanhua Police District, Division Chief, Ting-Chang Ko (柯訂讚) of TCPD and many others too numerous to mention individually, they were extremely generous with administrative assistance and extra allowance for my work. I would also like to thank those who work/worked together with me at the Inspectors' Office, Traffic Division and Criminal Investigation Division.

I also owe much to my family for always believing in me and encouraging me to achieve my goals. It is regretful that I could not spend more time with my daughter, Ivy, and my son, Jacky, when the bulk of my time was devoted to my dissertation. Fortunately, they remained courteous. My wife has always been there for me, and has never failed to do what she could to further my progress. Her compassion, generosity, and steadfast emotional support have been invaluable in helping me to focus on my academic pursuits. She always inspires me with her infinite capacity for love, joy, and faith. In addition, my parents, to whom this dissertation is dedicated, provided me with rare opportunities to learn advanced knowledge and to expand my horizons. Nevertheless, it's regretful that my father passed away before completing my dissertation. In endless memory of my father, I attribute my success to him and share my honor with him.

Finally, I can not but thank God's help. Only with all this tremendous help was I able to get through and achieve my objective of having the distinction of holding a Ph.D. If given the opportunity to repeat such an experience, I would be still willing to endure the course of studies to become a doctor of philosophy because it is a worthy goal.
