

Acknowledgement

There are many people who I must thank for their helps in my all graduate studies. First, I would like to acknowledge my advisor, Professor Albert Chin, for his fruitful discussions and guidance comments. I am also grateful to my ED633 group members, for their friendships and their helps during my research and experiments. In addition, I would like thank my girlfriend for her considerations and kindly encouragements.

Furthermore, I would like to express my greatest appreciation to my parents. They always give me encouragements and spiritual supports through the years.

